WHAT IS EAC?

Aiming to trigger significant breakthroughs and a material difference in the lives of children who have no access to primary education, Educate A Child (EAC), a global programme of the Education Above All Foundation launched in 2012, has been helping millions of out of school children (OOSC) all over the world, through partnership and innovation, overcome the access and retention barriers blocking their path to education. Playing a catalytic role in the field of OOSC and quality primary education, EAC strives to achieve individual and social outcomes for these children, their communities and a more sustainable world for us all.

MANDATE:

EAC's mandate is to influence the enrolment and retention of more than 10 million children who are out of primary education worldwide. EAC focusses on the most marginalised children; with a special emphasis on children in poverty; those facing social or cultural barriers to education; and children burdened by crisis and conflict. Through partnership and an orientation towards scale, innovation and sustainability, EAC contributes to creating a world where every child can realise her/his right to quality education.

VISION:

EAC envisions a world where all children have the opportunity to access a quality primary education. It pursues this global endeavour by supporting and expanding direct interventions that target the barriers preventing OOSC from fulfilling their right to a quality education.

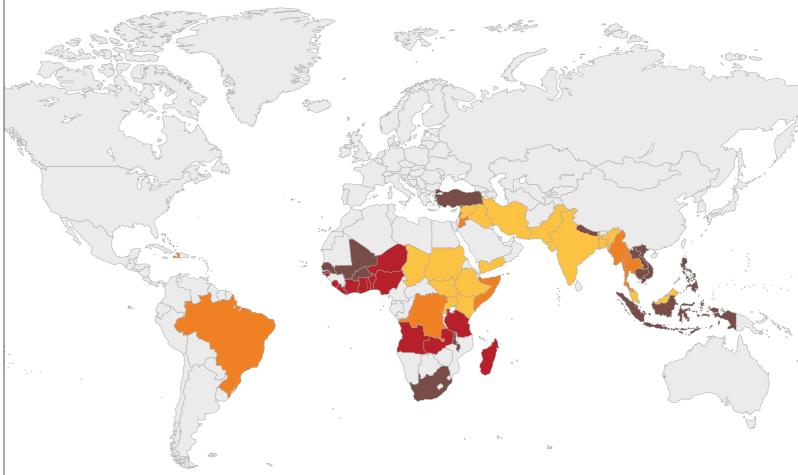

MILESTONES & THE WORK THAT REMAINS

27 April 2018 marked a key milestone for EAC, as its founder, Her Highness Sheikha Moza bint Nasser, and other eminent personalities from across the globe joined in a momentous occasion at the New York Public Library, acknowledging that the programme had secured commitments from partners to enrol more than 10.4 million OOSC into quality primary education.

Yet, today, UNESCO confirms that there are still 64 million primary-level children worldwide missing out on their right to education. EAC, though cognizant of the progress made and lessons learned along the way, remains steadfast in its efforts to create opportunities for vulnerable children around the world to access education and in so doing a chance at a better life for themselves, their families and communities.

EVERYONE WINS THROUGH PARTNERSHIP

Partnerships have been central to EAC's strategy to reach over 10.4 million OOSC in a little under six years. This accomplishment shows that by working together even the most intractable global challenges can be addressed, and the hardest-to-reach children can realise their right to quality education.

Our partners range from international educational, development and humanitarian organisations to locally based groups. EAC seeks to mobilise additional interest, commitment and investment from governments, the private sector, foundations and individuals. Our partners have included:
